Why should I study with ICB?

You don't have to put your career, family or income on hold to move forward.

Start small

Take one subject first and build from there.

Study flexibly

Fit your studies around work and family commitments.

Keep your progress

There is no current time limit – continue from where you left off.

Get credit for what you know

RPL may recognise relevant qualifications or work experience.

The hard way

- ➔ Wait until life is less busy
- ➔ Try to study everything at once
- ➔ Put your goals off for another year

VS

The smart way

- ➔ Start with one subject
- ➔ Study around your schedule
- ➔ Earn your first certificate – then decide your next step

What ICB does

ICB is your independent examination body — not your tuition provider.

ICB sets and administers the examinations. Tuition support, study materials and tutor assistance are provided separately through accredited training centres or you can self study.

76% of our students write their exams online!

Why study with ICB?

Built for busy working parents. Qualify one subject at a time.

You have a job, a family and a full calendar. You don't need to sign up for years of study or find a big lump sum. Start with one subject, write one exam, and earn a certificate – then decide your next step.

Your biggest questions, answered

“Can I afford it?”

You pay per subject, not per year – no big upfront commitment. Exam fees for a full qualification Eg. 4 subjects + registration come to about R5,400 (R1200 per subject + Registration R600), and many providers offer payment plans.

“Who actually teaches me?”

ICB is the examination body: we set the standard, run the exams and award your certificate. You learn through an ICB-accredited training provider, who charges tuition separately or you can self study on your own.

“How will I study?”

Pick the style that suits your life – distance, online, evening or face-to-face classes, depending on your provider. Then write your exam online from home, with no travelling to a venue.

“How do I fit it all in?”

About 4 hours a week per subject. Study one subject at a time, at your own pace, with no time limit – so you can slow down when work or family gets busy.

One path. Every subject counts.

Professional certificates and the NQF qualification aren't either/or – they're stages of the same journey.

Step 1

Pass one subject

Earn an IQB Professional Certificate, endorsed by IQB (UK). Job-ready in as little as 12 weeks.

Step 2

Stack more subjects

Each subject adds a certificate to your CV – and a building block to your qualification.

Step 3

Complete 3/4 subjects

Gain a nationally recognised NQF qualification, registered with QCTO and quality-assured by FASSET.

Step 4

Keep climbing

Move up NQF levels or into further study through accredited institutions, with routes towards ACCA and CIMA.

NQF Learning Pathway: last enrolment 30 June 2027, final completion 30 June 2030.

What it really costs

FROM as little as R168 per month on a payment plan

1 subject R1200 + registration R600 = R1800 in ICB fees.

Training-centre tuition is charged separately by your provider.

Your first steps this week

1

Talk it through with your family and your boss – their support makes it work.

2

Choose an ICB-accredited training provider and ask about payment plans.

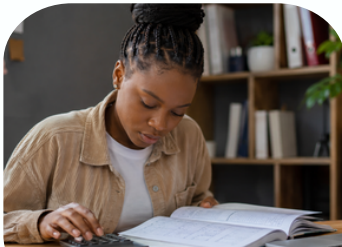

3

Choose an exam day and start your first subject.

THE ICB'S

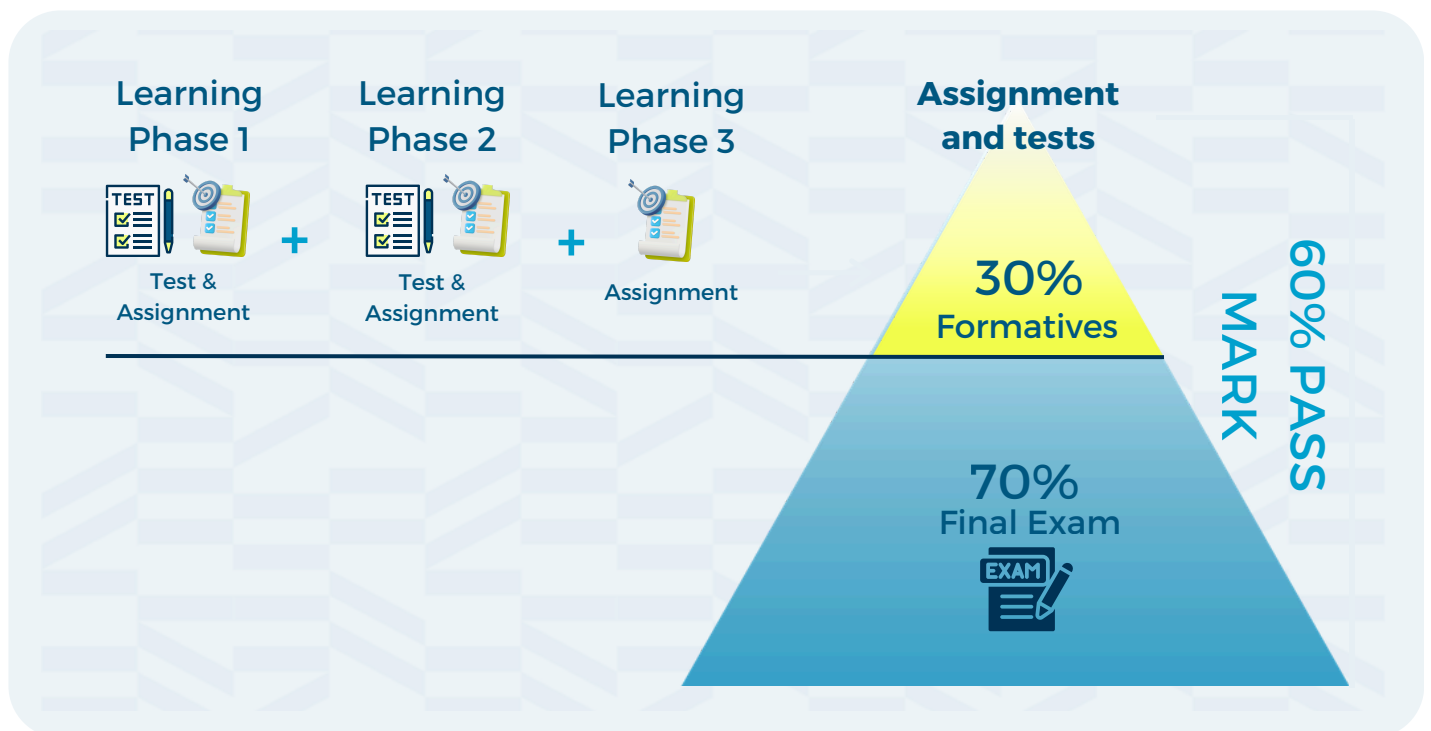

Assessment Structure

Each subject includes three learning phases.

Phases 1 and 2 each consisting of a test and an assignment, while Phase 3 includes only an assignment.

Once all three phases are completed, you'll write a final exam.

Your final mark is made up of 30% from the assignments and tests, and 70% from the final exam. To pass, you need 50% in your final exam and an overall score of at least 60%.

Online Digital PoE's

This is a digital work pack that contains all your instructions and assessments.

These are completed online on ICB's PoE platform, called MACCI.

You are given access to this once payment reflects.

Online Registration

All student and exam registrations are online only.

Final exams

Final exams are either paper based or online. Please make sure to book for the correct type of exam.

Online Exams

Online exams can be written from your training centre or from work or from home

Paper Exams

Paper exams can be written at your training centre or any ICB venues in South Africa

RECOGNISING PRIOR LEARNING

Get Credit for what you already know

(EXEMPTIONS)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) allows you to apply for exemptions from certain ICB subjects — based on previous qualifications or part-qualifications or relevant workplace experience.

If your application is successful, you can gain credit towards an ICB qualification without repeating what you already know.

If you register as an ICB student before 30 June 2027, and your previous qualification was NQF registered, you may be eligible for credit towards an NQF qualification.

If you register with ICB after 1 July 2027, your pathway is Professional International Certification (endorsed by IQB) — and any exemptions granted will be non-credit bearing (RPL can still apply, but for IQB certification only).

Who can apply?

If you have NQF-registered qualifications or part-qualifications completed within the last 5 years

If you have older qualifications but can show current, relevant work experience. If you have workplace experience aligned with the ICB programme outcomes

Once your application is successful, you can gain credit towards an ICB qualification without repeating what you already know.

Where will my studies take me?

STUDY FURTHER ELSEWHERE with credit for your ICB qualification

We have partnered with ACCA and CIMA for students to receive credits from their NQF6 qualifications.

It is up to each individual institution to credit students based on their own set of criteria, as well as the student's results, and this is subject to change. The ICB cannot guarantee external exemptions.
